No-Prep Therapy Activity: Basic Concepts Scavenger Hunt

by Abby Sakovich, M.S., CCC-SLP

Summer is a time for fun, friends, and fireworks! Cookouts, holiday parades, and family vacations fill the weeks. A scavenger hunt can be a great way to pass the time between summer adventures! Whether outside soaking up the sun or stuck inside due to weather, use this Basic Concepts Scavenger Hunt checklist to pass the time.

Number of Players

- 1 or more

Materials Needed

- Basic Concepts Scavenger Hunt page (one copy for each player or team)
- pencils or crayons
- Optional: laminate game board and use with dry erase markers

Object of the Game

Find objects or items that match the basic concepts pictured on the basic concepts game board on the next page.

Directions

- Provide each player with a copy of the game found on the next page.
- Each player finds an object or item that fits the basic concepts pictured in the squares.
 - Example: A player looking for something "open" could find an open kitchen drawer, a container with an open lid, or even a store or restaurant can be open!
- Players color or cross off concepts as they find them.

Tips for Game Play

- For groups of players larger than two:
 - Divide into teams of two.
 - Determine if one player or all players will share the responsibility of crossing concepts off the game board when found.
- For non-readers, use the pictures featured with the concepts for examples.
